2. Travel information

There is a direct train connection between Schiphol International Airport and The Hague Central Station. It is the fastest and most convenient way to get to the city centre. The train station is situated directly below the airport (entrance via Schiphol Plaza). Please check <http://www.ns.nl/en/travellers/home> to plan your journey up front.

Keep in mind that The Hague has other train stations, so be sure to travel to Den Haag CS (Central Station), as this station will be the closest to the Venue and the city centre. The journey time from Amsterdam Schiphol to Den Haag CS is about half an hour. A one-way ticket costs around 8 euro (second class) and 14 euro (first class). You can buy an anonymous OV-chip card or an one-way ticket at the ticket office or at the yellow ticket machines with the blue overhead sign reading 'train tickets'. Only, when you booked the NH-hotel at the Prinses Margrietplantsoen you have to travel from Schiphol airport to Station Den Haag Laan van Nieuw Oost Indië.

By tram or bus

The Hague has an efficient city wide system of light rail (called RandstadRail).

Centraal Station (CS) has easy access to trams on the south side (Rijnstraat), but the main lines (Randstadrail 3 and 4) stop on platforms crossing the main station hall at level 1.

Central Station is currently finishing up a major reconstruction work that may make some connections hard to find. Just ask at the information kiosk at the centre of the station.

From your Hotel to Statistics Netherlands (CBS):

When you are staying in The Hague / Den Haag: Take tram 3 or 4 in the direction of Zoetermeer. Get off at "Leidschenveen" station. If you leave the platform, you will see a footbridge ahead of you. This will lead you to the main entrance of the CBS building.

OV-chip card is valid for the entire public transport network in the Netherlands

We can advise you to buy an anonymous OV chip card (for €7,50), as this is the Dutch public transport smartcard for all public transport in the Netherlands. The same card allows you to travel on the train, train, bus and metro. You can purchase these cards with a credit card at the yellow ticket machines. Or you can buy them at the ticket office on the train station. Before you can travel you need to load credit onto the card.

Note: the OV-chip card / smartcard is rechargeable but not refundable. They are valid for five years so you can keep them for next visits to NL!

You must always check in and out with an OV-chip card. So hold your card against the card reader not only at the start of your journey, but also at the end of your journey, or when you transfer to another mode of transport.

For more information on the OV-chip card please see:

<https://www.ov-chipkaart.nl/>

You can plan your journey using the Dutch Public Transport Planner:
