Biography

Sarah Minson
(Statistics New Zealand)
sarah.minson@stats.govt.nz

Sarah Minson has worked at Statistics New Zealand for 10 years. Much of that time was working on the 5 yearly census programme responsible for the online census, technology and infrastructure for the field operation and also responsible for data processing.

In the last 2 years Sarah has been manager of the Operations Strategy and Development team. In this role Sarah is responsible for developing collection and processing strategy for Statistics New Zealand, and also for putting business surveys online and implementing Salesforce for data collection management.