II. TRANSPORT AND DIRECTIONS

Public transport from airport

1. There is a direct train connection between Schiphol International Airport and The Hague Central Station (Den Haag CS). It is the fastest and most convenient way to get to the city centre. The train station is situated directly below the airport (entrance via Schiphol Plaza). Please check <http://www.ns.nl/en/travellers/home> to plan your journey up front.

2. Keep in mind that The Hague has other train stations, so be sure to travel to Den Haag CS (Central Station), as this station will be the closest to the venue and the city centre. (If you have booked the NH-hotel at the Prinses Margrietplantsoen, it is more convenient to travel from Schiphol Airport to Station Den Haag Laan van Nieuw Oost Indië.) The journey time from Schiphol Airport to Den Haag CS is about half an hour. A one-way ticket costs around 8 euro (second class) and 14 euro (first class). You can buy an anonymous OV-chip card or a one-way ticket at the ticket office or at the yellow ticket machines with the blue overhead sign reading 'train tickets'.

By tram or bus

3. The Hague has an efficient city wide system of light rail (called RandstadRail). Centraal Station (CS) has easy access to trams on the south side (Rijnstraat), but the main lines (Randstadrail 3 and 4) stop on platforms crossing the main station hall at level 1. If necessary, you can ask for directions at the information kiosk at the centre of the station hall.

From your Hotel to Statistics Netherlands (CBS)

4. When you are staying in The Hague / Den Haag: Take Randstadrail line 3 or 4 in the direction of Zoetermeer. Get off at “Leidschenveen” station. If you leave the platform, you will see a footbridge ahead of you. This will lead you to the main entrance of the CBS building.

5. To travel by tram, bus or Randstadrail in The Hague, you can either buy separate tickets or an OV-chip card. Tickets cost €3,50 for a one-way ticket, €6,50 for a one-day ticket or €18,00 for a three-day ticket. These can be bought at the HTM Service Desk at The Hague Central Station. One-way tickets can also be bought from a machine in the Randstadrail vehicle (coins only). For more information, please see:

<https://www.htm.nl/english/tickets-for-short-stays-of-1-to-3-days/>

6. Alternatively, you can buy an anonymous OV-chip card for €7,50. The OV-chip card is valid for the entire public transport network in the Netherlands. The same card allows you to travel by train, bus and metro. You can purchase these cards with a credit card at the yellow ticket machines. Or you can buy them at the ticket office in the train station. Before you can travel you need to load credit onto the card. Note: the OV-chip card / smartcard is rechargeable but not refundable. They are valid for five years so you can keep them for next visits to the Netherlands!

7. You must always check in and out with an OV-chip card. So hold your card against the card reader not only at the start of your journey, but also at the end of your journey, or when you transfer to another mode of transport. Please note that the card readers for trams and buses are situated in the vehicle, but those for trains and metros are situated on the platform or in the station hall.

III. GENERAL INFORMATION

Currency

9. The Netherlands’ official currency is the Euro. There is a dense network of ATMs (cash machines) in the Netherlands. In addition, the major credit and debit cards are accepted by virtually all shops, hotels and restaurants. Cards that are accepted are usually displayed in the window of the premises.
