This phase includes the design of the whole IT architecture and infrastructure for the project and the design of new aggregation of data.

- Design data reporting architecture
- Design IT infrastructure and create test plan
- Data production analysis and design