In this step the needs for the participation to the project must be defined using:

- a data collector meeting where activities and roadmap are proposed,
- a stakeholder/project-focused meeting where the project feasibility is decided.

Decide on which skills are required for the success of the project.

- Participate in data exchange implementation groups
- Decide if and how to progress with the project