

Practical information - EESW17

ENBES workshop 2017 practical information

Location

Meeting papers

Participants are expected to bring their own paper copies of meeting documents. All documents will be uploaded on the meeting website as soon as they become available.

Travelling to the University of Southampton

Participants are requested to make their own travel and hotel reservations.

Flights:

Southampton has an airport, and if there are direct flights from your location, this is very easy, with only a 20-minute bus ride to the University. If you fly to Gatwick there are direct trains every hour to Southampton Central (journey time around 2 hours), and if you fly to Heathrow then you can get a Railair bus link to Woking, and a train from Woking to Southampton Central or Southampton Airport Parkway. The latter is easier for getting direct to the university – it is next to the airport and there is a direct bus link. There are also direct coach services between Heathrow and the University – see <http://www.nationalexpress.com/home.aspx> (search for "University of Southampton").

Other London airports are further from Southampton (some quite far, so be wary), and will involve a trip to central London, traveling on the Underground, and taking a train to Southampton. Most train services run from London Waterloo.

Eurostar:

You can come by Eurostar to London, but will then need to cross London by the Underground and take a train to Southampton. Most train services run from London Waterloo.

Buses:

Unilink buses run many local routes in Southampton, but the key ones are the

U1A which runs from the centre (Southampton Central railway station and shopping areas) via the University to the airport and Southampton Airport Parkway station; and the U1C which runs from the airport via the University to the centre.

Especially when traveling from the University, make sure you get on the right one! A single ticket costs £2, and a day return £3-50.

Further information:

Maps and travel information are available from the University of Southampton Travel Page. This also includes a map of the Highfield Campus.
